

Grande successo lo scorso 11 Aprile al Kilometro Rosso. Oltre 100 persone hanno partecipato al meeting organizzato da FEN Technology di Cambridge ed Europartner; relatori molto quotati e provenienti da aziende prestigiose come Microsoft hanno spiegato le novità e le possibili e grandi applicazioni che le tecnologie IOT permettono, ciò non solo in settori avanzati ed high tech, ma anche come applicazioni per settori maturi.

Gate 4 -Centro delle Professioni, Via Stezzano 87 - Bergamo

Connected products and the so-called Internet of Things (IoT) have been receiving a lot of press in recent years. Fen Technology invites you to a workshop where we will explain why IoT is an essential part of a product companies' strategy, how to realize that product development, and how to access the business and customer benefits that it brings.

We are bringing together world leading companies to support you in navigating the IoT development challenge, using real examples. Microsoft, Qualcomm and Cameli will tell the story from early specifications through the development cycle, all the way to managing product on the field.

We are hosting 1-2-1 consultation surgeries with world-class development specialists covering most electronics technologies in most market sectors.
